DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-2 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant has provided amendments and arguments in support of those amendments. However, Examiner does not believe these amendments adequately traverse the prior art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Montagner, U.S. Patent 6,161,254 (12/19/00) in view of Schuchard, U.S. Patent 6,505,933 (1/14/03).

Montagner teaches a hinge part (7) held in a displaceable manner in a longitudinal direction of the temple in a housing (1) on the temple side, a fixture (3', 3'') which projects from the hinge part in the direction of displacement, engages in an opening in the housing (1) and comprising a fixture rod (3) and a transversal bar at the end of the fixture rod (5, 5'), two helical springs provided laterally adjacent the fixture rod (6) and parallel thereto inserted into a housing bore (fig. 6, 1') and resting with their ends at the hinge side on an abutment associated with the housing (Col 4, Lines 43-48) and open toward the housing opening for the fixture rod. Montagner does not teach the housing bores each receiving a locking element forming the abutment for the helical spring or the housing bores being separate cylindrical bores. Schuchard does teach a locking element (11) forming the abutment for a helical spring (10) with the helical spring and locking elements inserted axially into a recess (2) and the recess being a cylindrical housing bore. At the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Montagner with the features as taught by Schuchard by extending the bores of Montagner to receive the locking elements axially because a replaceable locking element would allow the abutment to be replaced (after manufacturing is complete) if the abutment were to wear out due to high cycling and a change in size or proportion (for the bores) is generally considered within the ordinary skill of one in the art barring any unforeseen result, In re Rose. Regarding the limitations that the bores are separate and cylindrical, it is considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the housing bore of Montagner as two separate bores and provide them as being cylindrical (as taught by Schuchard) because a duplication of parts and a change in shape is generally considered within the ordinary skill of one in the art barring any unforeseen result, In re Harza, In re Dailey.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Montagner and Schuchard as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Montalban, U.S. Patent 6,152,562 (11/28/00).

All the aspects of the instant invention are disclosed above but for the locking element being screwed into the housing bore. Montalban does teach a locking element (24) being screwed into a housing bore (Col 3, Lines 65-67). At the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Montagner and Schuchard with the features as taught by Montalban because a screw fastening for the locking element is well known in the art and would be easily to install and remove.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
